Valid formats: .doc/.html/.txt/.xls/.pdf/.jpg/.gif/.docx/.pptx/.ppt/.xlsx

2 Add comments

Add any information that you think our writing expert should know before reviewing your paper.

* This process may take a while depending on the size of your file and your connection speed.

You can upload your paper/project and receive a tutor’s written response within 24 hours OR you can work with a tutor in a real-time typed chat room style. If you do that, be sure to ask the tutor how you can record or receive a record of the conversation.

5. There will be a series of checkboxes to indicate the kind of feedback you want on your writing (not shown here). You can focus on the content and organization of the essay, but if you want grammar and mechanics help as well, I suggest you resubmit the essay again with just that box clicked. So, yes, submit twice -- once asking for content and organization help, and once asking for grammar and mechanics help.

6. You must use the “Add Comments” field. In the “Add Comments” field, you will need to include information about the assignment. The best thing is to copy your instructor’s assignment instructions here. That way, the tutor will know what to look for. Without this, you are likely to get off-target feedback.

7. To upload your writing-- If you used Google Docs, you will need first to save it as a Word or Open Office or Pages document on your computer or flashdrive. Then, upload that version. Unfortunately, they don’t access Google Docs via shared links. ;-)

Also, do not upload a PDF! The tutor won’t be able to type comments into the body of the paper

8. Your feedback should be ready within 24 hours. Check back at the Brainfuse for your feedback. Go to your inbox by pulling down the little menu by your name.

Download the file of feedback from the Brainfuse tutor and use the feedback to revise your essay. Save the feedback file.
